Interim Attorneys' Fees and Costs

requesting a total of $213,351.55. Fees App. at 2, ECF No. 91. Respondent filed a response on March 11, 2022, stating it is within my discretion to award interim attorneys' fees and costs. Fees Resp. at 3, ECF No. 92. Respondent "defers to [me] to determine whether or not petitioner here has met the legal standard for an interim fees and costs award." Id. at 4. Petitioner did not file a reply.

I hereby GRANT Petitioner's application award a total of $196,575.05 in interim attorneys' fees and costs.

I. Legal Standard

A. Interim Attorneys' Fees and Costs

The Federal Circuit has held that an award of interim attorneys' fees and costs is permissible under the Vaccine Act. Shaw v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., 609 F.3d 1372 (Fed. Cir. 2010); Avera v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., 515 F.3d 1343 (Fed. Cir. 2008). In Cloer, the Federal Circuit noted that "Congress [has] made clear that denying interim attorneys' fees under the Vaccine Act is contrary to an underlying purpose of the Vaccine Act." Cloer v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., 675 F.3d 1358, 1361-62 (Fed. Cir. 2012).

In Avera, the Federal Circuit stated, "[i]nterim fees are particularly appropriate in cases where proceedings are protracted, and costly experts must be retained." Avera, 515 F.3d at 1352. Likewise, in Shaw, the Federal Circuit held that "where the claimant establishes that the cost of litigation has imposed an undue hardship and there exists a good faith basis for the claim, it is proper for the special master to award interim attorneys' fees." 609 F.3d at 1375. Avera did not, however, define when interim fees are appropriate; rather, it has been interpreted to allow special masters discretion. See Avera, 515 F.3d; Kirk v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 08-241V, 2009 WL 775396, at *2 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Mar. 13, 2009); Bear v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 11-362V, 2013 WL 691963, at *4 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Feb. 4, 2013). Even though it has been argued that a petitioner must meet the three Avera criteria -- protracted proceedings, costly expert testimony, and undue hardship -- special masters have instead treated these criteria as possible factors in a flexible balancing test. Avera, 515 F.3d at 1352; see Al-Uffi v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 13-956V, 2015 WL 6181669, at *7 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Sept. 30, 2015).

A petitioner is eligible for an interim award of reasonable attorneys' fees and costs if the special master finds that a petitioner has brought his petition in good faith and with a reasonable basis. §15(e)(1); Avera, 515 F.3d at 1352; Shaw, 609 F.3d at 1372; Woods v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., 105 Fed. Cl. 148 (2012), at 154; Friedman v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., 94 Fed. Cl. 323, 334 (2010); Doe 21 v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., 89 Fed. Cl. 661, 668 (2009); Bear, 2013 WL 691963, at *5; Lumsden v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 97-588V, 2012 WL 1450520, at *4 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Mar. 28, 2012). The undue hardship inquiry looks at more than just financial involvement of a petitioner; it also looks at any money expended by a petitioner's counsel. Kirk, 2009 WL 775396, at *2. Referring to Avera, former Chief Special Master Golkiewicz in Kirk found that "the general principle underlying an award of interim fees [is] clear: avoid working a substantial financial hardship on petitioners and their counsel." Id.

B. Good Faith

The good faith requirement is met through a subjective inquiry. Di Roma v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 90-3277V, 1993 WL 496981, at *1 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Nov. 18, 1993). Such a requirement is a “subjective standard that focuses upon whether [P]etitioner honestly believed he had a legitimate claim for compensation.” Turner v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 99-544V, 2007 WL 4410030, at *5 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Nov. 30, 2007). Without evidence of bad faith, “petitioners are entitled to a presumption of good faith.” Grice v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 36 Fed. Cl. 114, 121 (1996). Thus, so long as Petitioner had an honest belief that his claim could succeed, the good faith requirement is satisfied. See Riley v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 09-276V, 2011 WL 2036976, at *2 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Apr. 29, 2011) (citing Di Roma, 1993 WL 496981, at *1); Turner, 2007 WL 4410030, at *5.

C. Reasonable Basis

Unlike the good-faith inquiry, an analysis of reasonable basis requires more than just a petitioner’s belief in his claim. Turner, 2007 WL 4410030, at *6-7. Instead, the claim must at least be supported by objective evidence -- medical records or medical opinion. Sharp-Roundtree v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 14-804V, 2015 WL 12600336, at *3 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Nov. 3, 2015).

While the statute does not define the quantum of proof needed to establish reasonable basis, it is “something less than the preponderant evidence ultimately required to prevail on one’s vaccine-injury claim.” Chuisano v. United States, 116 Fed. Cl. 276, 283 (2014). The Court of Federal Claims affirmed in Chuisano that “[a]t the most basic level, a petitioner who submits no evidence would not be found to have reasonable basis....” Id. at 286. The Court in Chuisano found that a petition which relies on temporal proximity and a petitioner’s affidavit is not sufficient to establish reasonable basis. Id. at 290; see also Turpin v. Sec’y Health & Hum. Servs., No. 99-564V, 2005 WL 1026714, *2 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Feb. 10, 2005) (finding no reasonable basis when petitioner submitted an affidavit and no other records); Brown v. Sec’y Health & Hum. Servs., No. 99-539V, 2005 WL 1026713, *2 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Mar. 11, 2005) (finding no reasonable basis when petitioner presented only e-mails between her and her attorney). The Federal Circuit has affirmed that “more than a mere scintilla but less than a preponderance of proof could provide sufficient grounds for a special master to find reasonable basis.” Cottingham v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 2019-1596, 971 F.3d 1337, 1346 (Fed. Cir. Aug. 19, 2020) (finding Petitioner submitted objective evidence supporting causation when she submitted medical records and a vaccine package insert); see also James-Cornelius v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 984 F.3d 1374, 1380 (Fed. Cir. 2021) (finding that “the lack of an express medical opinion on causation did not by itself negate the claim’s reasonable basis.”).

Temporal proximity between vaccination and onset of symptoms is a necessary component in establishing causation in non-Table cases, but without more, temporal proximity alone “fails to establish a reasonable basis for a vaccine claim.” Chuisano, 116 Fed. Cl. at 291.

The Federal Circuit has stated that reasonable basis “is an objective inquiry” and concluded that “counsel may not use [an] impending statute of limitations deadline to establish a reasonable basis for [appellant’s] claim.” Simmons v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 875 F.3d 632, 636 (Fed. Cir. 2017). Further, an impending statute of limitations should not even be one of several factors the special master considers in her reasonable basis analysis. “[T]he Federal Circuit forbade, altogether, the consideration of statutory limitations deadlines—and all conduct of counsel—in determining whether there was a reasonable basis for a claim.” Amankwaa v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 138 Fed. Cl. 282, 289 (2018).

“[I]n deciding reasonable basis the [s]pecial [m]aster needs to focus on the requirements for a petition under the Vaccine Act to determine if the elements have been asserted with sufficient evidence to make a feasible claim for recovery.” Santacroce v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 15-555V, 2018 WL 405121, at *7 (Fed. Cl. Jan. 5, 2018). Special masters cannot award compensation “based on the claims of petitioner alone, unsubstantiated by medical records or by medical opinion.” 42 U.S.C. § 300aa-13(a)(1). Special masters and judges of the Court of Federal Claims have interpreted this provision to mean that petitioners must submit medical records or expert medical opinion in support of causation-in-fact claims. See Waterman v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 123 Fed. Cl. 564, 574 (2015) (citing Dickerson v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 35 Fed. Cl. 593, 599 (1996) (stating that medical opinion evidence is required to support an on-Table theory where medical records fail to establish a Table injury)).

When determining if a reasonable basis exists, many special masters and judges consider a myriad of factors. The factors to be considered may include “the factual basis of the claim, the medical and scientific support for the claim, the novelty of the vaccine, and the novelty of the theory of causation.” Amankwaa, 138 Fed. Cl. at 289. This approach allows the special master to look at each application for attorneys’ fees and costs on a case-by-case basis. Hamrick v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 99-683V, 2007 WL 4793152, at *4 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Nov. 19, 2007).

II. Discussion

A. Undue Financial Hardship

The undue hardship inquiry looks at more than just financial involvement of a petitioner; it also looks at any money expended by petitioner’s counsel. Kirk, 2013 WL 775396, at *2 (finding “the general principle underlying an award of interim fees was clear: avoid working a substantial financial hardship on petitioners and their counsel.”). I also note that the COVID-19 pandemic has had a significant impact on the United States economy and such impact has been recognized by this court. See Monge-Landry v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 14-853V, 2020 U.S. Claims LEXIS 1250 at *14-15 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Jun. 30, 2020) (recognizing the COVID-19 pandemic’s continued disruption of the airline industry in its calculation of appropriate interim fees). Given these unprecedented economic circumstances, and the time already spent litigating this case, I find that the Petitioner would suffer undue hardship in the absence of an award of interim attorneys’ fees and costs.

B. Good Faith and Reasonable Basis

Respondent has not raised any specific objection to the good faith or reasonable basis for this claim and leaves such a determination to my discretion. See Fees Resp. I find that the petition was filed in good faith.

With regards to reasonable basis, Petitioner submitted three expert reports from Drs. Frederick Nahm and Omid Akbari that offer a theory of causation as to how the Tdap vaccine could have caused Petitioner's transverse myelitis. See Exs. 7, 10, 15. A two-day entitlement hearing was also held on July 28-29, 2021 where Petitioner presented expert testimony. See Minute Entry dated 7/29/2021. This constitutes sufficient evidence to establish a reasonable basis for the claim.

As there is no other reason to deny an award of interim attorneys' fees and costs, I will award Petitioner's reasonable fees and costs in this instance.

C. Attorneys' Fees

Petitioner requests a total of $107,226.70 in attorneys' fees. Fees App. at 2.

1. Reasonable Hourly Rate

A reasonable hourly rate is defined as the rate "prevailing in the community for similar services by lawyers of reasonably comparable skill, experience and reputation." Avera, 515 F.3d at 1348 (quoting Blum, 465 U.S. at 896 n.11). In general, this rate is based on "the forum rate for the District of Columbia" rather than "the rate in the geographic area of the practice of [P]etitioner's attorney." Rodriguez v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., 632 F.3d 1381, 1384 (Fed. Cir. 2011) (citing Avera, 515 F. 3d at 1349).

McCulloch provides the framework for determining the appropriate compensation for attorneys' fees based upon the attorneys' experience. See McCulloch v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 09–293V, 2015 WL 5634323 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Sept. 1, 2015). The Office of Special Masters has accepted the decision in McCulloch and has issued a Fee Schedule for subsequent years.³

Petitioner's counsel, Mr. Maximillian Muller, requests an hourly rate of $255.00 for work performed in 2015; $275.00 for work performed in 2016; $300.00 for work performed in 2017;

The 2021 Fee Schedule can be accessed at: <http://www.cofc.uscourts.gov/sites/default/files/Attorneys-Fo-um-Rate-Fee-Schedule-2021-PPI-OL.pdf>

The hourly rates contained within the schedules are updated from the decision in McCulloch, 2015 WL 5634323.

$317.00 for work performed in 2018; $325.00 for work performed in 2019; $350.00 for work performed in 2020; $375.00 for work performed in 2021; and $400.00 for work performed in 2022. Mr. Muller also requests an hourly rate of $250.00 for work performed by his colleague, Ms. Laura Levenberg. Fees App. at 1. Mr. Muller also requests compensation for his paralegals, Maria Loecker, Stacie Bole, Megan McNicholas, Ryan Kovacevich, and Erik Pavlacsek, at an hourly rate of $125.00 for work performed from 2015-2021; and Ms. Tereza Pavlacsek at hourly rates of $140.00 for work performed in 2019, $150.00 for work performed in 2020, and $160.00 for work performed in 2021. Fees App. at 2. This request is consistent with what I and other special masters have previously awarded Mr. Muller, Ms. Levenberg, and the paralegals from Muller Brazil. See, e.g., Putnam v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 19-1921V, 2022 WL 2133979 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. May 12, 2022) (awarding the paralegals of the Muller Brazil firm their requested rates); Seeley v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 19-1258V, 2021 WL 6201441 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Dec. 7, 2021); Taylor v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 16-1403V, 2021 WL 3743822 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Jul. 23, 2021). Accordingly, I find the requested rates are reasonable and that no adjustment is warranted.

2. Hours Reasonably Expended

Attorneys' fees are awarded for the “number of hours reasonably expended on the litigation.” Avera, 515 F.3d at 1348. Ultimately, it is “well within the Special Master's discretion to reduce the hours to a number that, in [her] experience and judgment, [is] reasonable for the work done.” Saxton ex rel. Saxton v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 3 F.3d 1517, 1522 (Fed. Cir. 1993). In exercising that discretion, special masters may reduce the number of hours submitted by a percentage of the amount charged. See Broekelschen v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 102 Fed. Cl. 719, 728-29 (2011) (affirming the special master's reduction of attorney and paralegal hours); Guy v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 38 Fed. Cl. 403, 406 (1997) (affirming the special master's reduction of attorney and paralegal hours). Petitioner bears the burden of establishing that the rates charged, hours expended, and costs incurred are reasonable. Wasson v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 24 Cl. Ct. 482, 484 (1993). However, special masters may reduce awards sua sponte, independent of enumerated objections from the respondent. Sabella v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 86 Fed. Cl. 201, 208-09 (Fed. Cl. 2009); Savin v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 85 Fed. Cl. 313, 318 (Fed. Cl. 2008), aff’d No. 99-573V, 2008 WL 2066611 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Apr. 22, 2008).

A special master need not engage in a line-by-line analysis of petitioner's fee application when reducing fees. Broekelschen v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 102 Fed. Cl. 719, 729 (Fed. Cl. 2011). Special masters may look to their experience and judgment to reduce an award of fees and costs to a level they find reasonable for the work performed. Saxton v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 3 F.3d 1517, 1521 (Fed. Cl. 1993). It is within a special master's discretion to instead make a global reduction to the total amount of fees requested. See Hines v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 22 Cl. Ct. 750, 753 (1991) (“special masters have wide latitude in determining the reasonableness of both attorneys’ fees and costs”); Hocraffer v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 99-533V, 2011 WL 3705153 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. July 25, 2011), mot. for rev. denied, 2011 WL 6292218, at *13 (Fed. Cl. 2011) (denying review of the special master's decision and endorsing “a global – rather than line-by-line – approach to determine the reasonable number of hours expended in this case”).

While attorneys may be compensated for non-attorney-level work, the rate must be comparable to what would be paid for a paralegal or secretary. See O'Neill v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 08–243V, 2015 WL 2399211, at *9 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Apr. 28, 2015). Clerical and secretarial tasks should not be billed at all, regardless of who performs them. See, e.g., McCulloch, 2015 WL 5634323, at *26.

Petitioner's counsel has provided a breakdown of hours billed and costs incurred. Fees App., Ex. A. I find the hours to be largely reasonable but will make a small reduction for time spent "preparing exhibits for filing."⁴ This accounts for a reduction of $162.50 for Ms. Maria Loecker and $1,899.00 for Ms. Tereza Pavlacsek, or a total reduction of $2,061.50.

Total attorneys' fees to be awarded: $105,165.20

D. Reasonable Costs

Petitioner requests a total of $106,124.85 in costs, which includes obtaining medical records, the Court's filing fee, the cost of the entitlement hearing transcript and Drs. Nahm and Akbari's expert fees. Fees App., Ex. B.

Specifically, Petitioner requests $371.85 for medical records requests; $400.00 for the Court's filing fee; $1,463.00 for the entitlement hearing transcript; $22,875.00 for Dr. Nahm's expert report and appearance at the entitlement hearing, and $81,015.00 for Dr. Akbari's expert report and appearance at the entitlement hearing. Fees App., Ex. B at 1. Documentation for the medical record requests and the Court's filing fee were provided, and will be paid in full.

1. Petitioner's Expert Costs for Dr. Frederick Nahm

Petitioner requests an hourly rate of $500.00 for 45.75 hours of work performed by Dr. Nahm, for a total of $22,875.00. Dr. Nahm has a medical degree and Ph.D. in neuroscience. Ex. 11 at 1. Dr. Nahm has provided a full accounting of the hours he expended preparing and writing an expert report and the hours spent appearing at a two-day entitlement hearing. Ex. B at 6-7. Dr. Nahm's hourly rate is consistent to what I and other special master have previously awarded him. Karapetian v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 19-546V, 2022 WL 1865083 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. May 9, 2022); Polowy v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 18-1211V, 2022 WL 729939 (fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Feb. 8, 2022); Gibson v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 18-263V, 2021 WL 1010729 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Feb. 23, 2021). I grant Dr. Nahm's costs in full.

2. Petitioner's Expert Costs for Dr. Omid Akbari

Petitioner requests an hourly rate of $550.00 for 147.3 hours performed by Dr. Akbari, for a total of $81,015.00. Dr. Akbari has a Ph.D. in molecular and cellular immunology. Ex. 16 at 1. He is a Professor of Medicine and a Professor of Immunology at University of Southern California, ⁴ This task was performed by Ms. Maria Loecker: 0.6 hours in 2016; 0.5 hours in 2017; 0.2 hours in 2018; and Ms. Tereza Pavlacsek: 0.5 hours in 2020; 11.4 hours in 2021.

Keck School of Medicine. Id. Additionally, Dr. Akbari is an active researcher in the field of immune tolerance in triggering an autoimmune disease. Id. at 3. Despite Dr. Akbari's qualifications in immunology, he is not a medical doctor and lacks clinical experience. Dr. Akbari has been consistently awarded a rate of $500/hour by other special masters in the Program. See, e.g., Walters v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 15-1380V, 2022 WL 1077311 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Feb. 23, 2022); Bisceglia v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 19-91V, 2020 WL 6146101 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Sep. 20, 2020); Sheppard v. Sec'y of Health & Human Servs., No. 17-819V, 2020 WL 1027958, at *3 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Feb. 20, 2020); Hernandez v. Sec'y of Health & Human Servs., No. 2018 WL 4391060, at *2 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. May 9, 2019); Shinksey v. Sec'y of Health & Human Servs., No. 15-713V, 2019 WL 2064558, at *5 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. May 9, 2019); cf. Riley v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 16-262V, 2020 WL 1026929 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Feb. 6, 2020) (granting Dr. Akbari an expert rate of $300.00 per hour); Lewis v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., 15-907V, 2020 WL 1283461 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Feb. 20, 2020) (reaffirming Dr. Akbari's expert hourly rate of $300.00 per hour).

In making reductions, a line-by-line evaluation of the fee application is not required. Broekelschen v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., 102 Fed. Cl. 719, 729 (2011); see also Wasson v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., 24 Cl. Ct. 482, 484 (1991). Rather, special masters may “ ‘render a decision based on general guidelines as to a reasonable fee’ ” in the context of the Vaccine Program and in the context of this case in particular. Wasson, 24 Cl. Ct. at 484. Additionally, an expert should be compensated only for the number of hours reasonably expended by the expert. King ex rel. King v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 03-584V, 2010 WL 5470787, at *4 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Dec. 13, 2010) (indicating that counsel had a “duty to ‘monitor the expert's overall fees to ensure that the fees remain reasonable.’ ”); Hines ex rel. Sevier v. Sec'y of Dep't of Health & Hum. Servs., 22 Cl. Ct. 750, 754 (1991) (“The special master is within his discretion in reducing hours that are duplicative, padded, spent on unrelated matters, or not ‘reasonably expended.’ ” (quoting Griffin & Dickson v. United States, 21 Cl. Ct. 1, 11 (1990))).

In examining the totality of Dr. Akbari's work on this case, I find that it is excessive. Dr. Akbari billed for time spent downloading/printing all references, organizing exhibits, and practicing his Excel presentation. Although Dr. Akbari prepared two expert reports compared to Dr. Nahm's one report, Dr. Nahm similarly attended the entitlement hearing and only billed 45.75 hours, compared to Dr. Akbari's 147.3 hours. Dr. Akbari did spend significant time on reading Dr. Tompkins', Respondent's expert, medical literature, and filing a substantive responsive expert report however this does not warrant an additional 100 hours of work. Accordingly, I will reduce Dr. Akbari's requested time by 10%, for a total reduction of 14.73 hours. Based on my experience in reviewing similarly situated cases, I find that a 10% reduction is appropriate to account for the billing of administrative tasks and to reduce the hours billed to a more reasonable level. I applied a similar deduction to Dr. Akbari's hours in Walters. Walters, 2022 WL 1077311 at *7 (reducing Dr. Akbari's hours by 20%).

Total costs for Dr. Akbari: (132.6 hours x $500.00 per hour) = $66,300.00

Total costs to be awarded: $91,409.85

III. Conclusion

Accordingly, in the exercise of the discretion afforded to me in determining the propriety of interim fee and cost awards, and based on the foregoing, I GRANT Petitioner's application, as follows:

A lump sum in the amount of $196,575.05, representing reimbursement of Petitioner's interim attorneys' fees and costs in the form of a check jointly payable to Petitioner and his attorney, Mr. Maximillian Muller.

In the absence of a motion for review filed pursuant to RCFC Appendix B, the Clerk of Court SHALL ENTER JUDGMENT in accordance with this decision.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
